

Carley Allison

Carley Allison is a Virginia native singer/songwriter that grew up in the foothills of the blue ridge mountains in Culpeper, Virginia. She studied songwriting at Berklee College of Music in Boston and moved to Nashville in 2007. She has spent the last decade touring with her band, Aberdeen Green, and has shared the roster with artists such as Chris Stapleton, Trace Adkins, Rodney Crowell, Charles Kelley and Wynonna Judd. She performed at the 91st National Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony in Washington, D.C., opening up for Aretha Franklin, Mariah Carey, Train, Janelle Monae, Renee Fleming and The Avett Brothers. Carley recently moved to Virginia Beach with her husband and children to be closer to her growing family. She travels to Nashville on a regular basis for business, but when she is in the area she offers live acoustic music for weddings and events in the Virginia Beach area.
